Footnotes

1: Negative: (S/P Ration 0.00 - 0.44) Antibodies to M. paratuberculosis were not detected. The animal is either not infected or in a very early, undetectable stage of infection. Retesting in 6-12 months will increase the confidence that the animal is free of infection.

Suspect: (S/P Ratio 0.45 - 0.54) Very low level of serum antibodies; slightly above normal background levels. The animal may be in the early stages of the infection. Animals with an ELISA results in this range are roughly 10 times more likely to be infected than the ELISA-negative animals.

Positive: (S.P ratio ≥0.55) Moderate level of serum antibodies to M. paratuberculosis. Animals with this level of ELISA results are roughly 15 times more likely to be infected than ELISA-negative animals.
